DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

The 2003-2004 school year has been marked by significant academic achievement. We are very proud of the progress our students have made and continue to make.

The average SAT score for graduating seniors in the class of 2003 was 1008. (The previous class met the national average with a score of 1020. This score represented a 12-point increase over the previous year and showed a 49-point increase since 1995. This is the first time in history that the SAT average met the national average.) Students in Aiken County perform significantly better than the nation in Reading, Language Arts, and Mathematics as measured by Terra Nova, a nationally normed achievement test. All grade levels exceeded the national 60th percentile. Students in grades three through eight have shown improvement over five years on the rigorous Palmetto Achievement Challenge Test (PACT), a state-required test. Eighty (80) percent of our students score Basic or above on the test in Mathematics and 74 percent score Basic or above on the test in English/Language Arts. The performance of our students is considered better than that of students in school districts that are similar to ours.

Well over 90 percent of our students pass the South Carolina High School Exit Examination in Mathematics, Reading, and Writing before graduation. Nearly 70 percent of our graduating seniors enter a post-secondary institution and pass over 90 percent of their course work their freshman year. School Match, a non-profit Chicago-based research firm that reviews data from the nation's 15,893 school systems, has selected this school system for the eighth consecutive year as an award-winning educational system.

In my role as the superintendent of education, I assure you that it is the goal of the Aiken County Board of Education to provide quality educational opportunities for all students.

We are always focused on continuous improvement. Educators, parents, students, and various communities are working hard to ensure that every student receives a quality education.
